

Christiane Bock, Vice President, Alliant/Mesirow Insurance Services

A Native of Germany, Christiane is a first vice president of Alliant/Mesirow Insurance Services, a national leader in employee benefits, risk management and consulting.

Christiane manages and directs the account management activities of her service team within the employee benefits department. She specializes in evaluating, developing, negotiating and implementing employee benefits programs for her clients that result in cost-effective programs. Her long-term relationships with the industry's most well-known and respected carriers and providers are vital to negotiating these programs.

While her book of business represents a variety of industries, her specialty is working with German companies that have established operations in the United States. She brings 18 years of experience and industry knowledge within this specialized segment. Her ability to effectively communicate the challenges and key factors of healthcare and employee benefits makes her a valued partner to her clients.

Christiane has worked in the employee benefits industry since 1999 and has been an employee of Mesirow Financial since 2003, which was acquired by Alliant Insurance Services in 2016. Christiane holds a bachelor of arts degree in public communication and human relations with a minor in marketing from Western Illinois University.
