

Lou Leuzzi
Director of Sales – Americas
relay
SPEAKER BIO

Lou Leuzzi is a seasoned technology executive with experience and demonstrated successes in global technology companies across enterprise software and IoT applications industry. Lou has contributed in various roles across Sales and Business Development, general management, product management, strategy, pre-sales, and project management and deployment. Lou has deployed numerous IoT based solutions that were centered around remote monitoring, smart/connected assets and many “As a Service” models specifically those that involve different ecosystem components that leverage locate, track and sense technologies.